

Fair Labor Standards Changes

Overtime Standards at a Glance

- Salary Threshold: Increases the salary threshold from $23,660 to $47,476. The threshold value is defined as the classification minimum – not the employee's actual salary.
- Effective Date: In preparation for the December 1, 2016 effective date of the new rules, DOHR has identified the affected classifications and will change the status of these classifications from exempt to non-exempt effective October, 16, 2016.
- Automatic Updates: The thresholds will be updated every three years. January 2020, the $47,476 threshold is expected to increase to more than $51,000.
- Significant change in the number of employees that will now be eligible to receive regular and premium cash overtime.

FLSA Statuses

The FLSA Status is determined by classification and range minimum, and falls into one of three categories:

- Non-Exempt – Eligible to receive cash overtime – all employees in classifications with a starting salary less than $47,476
 - Receives regular cash overtime (regular hourly rate) for 37.5 – 40 hours worked
 - Receives premium cash overtime (1.5 times the hourly wage) for hours worked in excess of 40 hours
 - Executive Exempt – Not eligible for overtime compensation – has nothing to do with executive or preferred service – starting salary for classification is higher than $47,476
- Exempt – Eligible to receive compensatory overtime – Very few employees with law change
 - Receives hour-for-hour compensatory overtime for hours worked in excess of 37.5

Requirements for Overtime

- A non-exempt employee MUST request overtime in Edison BEFORE working the overtime and it MUST be approved by the manager prior to being worked
- Time that is worked above 37.5 hours and is not requested, approved and recorded in Edison violates state policy
- Written recordings of “overtime” are not acceptable – Exempt employees are not eligible for Overtime and should not keep written time recordings as they are not eligible for hour for hour compensation of time
- Managers allowing non-exempt employees to work overtime outside of Edison are subject to disciplinary action

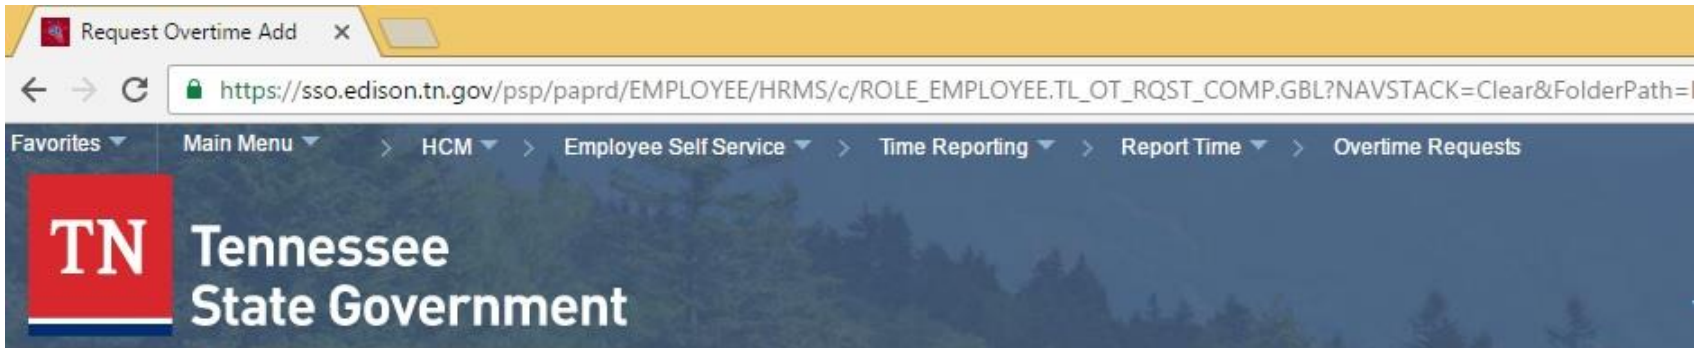

Comp Time Option

- Employees have the option to choose Comp Time in lieu of Cash Overtime
- Neither the Department nor the manager can require an employee to take Comp Time in lieu of Cash Overtime
- Managers need to discuss the fiscal impact of overtime with their business managers or the fiscal office

Comp Time Option

- Employees can sign an election form at the time of hire, or on an annual basis to choose Comp Time in lieu of Cash Overtime
- Election is good until the employee chooses to change it—but cannot change more often than once per year
- If choosing Comp Time, employee must complete the waiver and return it to HR

Edison will only allow you to enter overtime requests in 1 hour increments. If you plan to work 2.5 hours overtime, enter the request for 3. You will enter the 2.5 hours on your timesheet.

Be sure to include written justification for the overtime

Entering Overtime in Edison

The screenshot shows the Edison Timesheet application interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Tennessee State Government logo and the user's name, Andrea Wilkerson. Below this, the main content area displays the Timesheet for the week of 10/16/2016 to 10/22/2016. The interface includes a calendar view and a table for reporting hours. Annotations with red arrows point to specific parts of the interface:

- A box pointing to the 'Total Hours' column (37.5) and the 'Time Reporting Code' (AAAA - Scheduled Hours) with the text: "Mirror scheduled hours with working hours up until 37.5 hours worked".
- A box pointing to the 'Time Reporting Code' dropdown (REGS1 - Shift 1-Reg Hrs Wo) with the text: "Scheduled hours should not exceed 37.5".
- A box pointing to the 'Time Reporting Code' dropdown with the text: "Enter time as REGS1".
- A box pointing to the 'Reported Time Status' table with the text: "Enter all hours worked on time reporting line".
